THE POLITICAL DRIFT.

After the State Elections of last Autumn, when a decided revolt against the Administration was made manifest, it was said a "tidal wave" of the great political sea was surging over the nation, and that before it ebbed the Government would be wrested from the Republican party. We had little faith in that prediction, for we thought the people were not ready for revolt; notwithstanding the Administration, in some respects, had forfeited its confidence with a large portion of its original supporters. The recent elections in California and Maine have gone strongly against the Republicans; in the former State by a radical victory for the Democrats, giving them possession of the State, and also majority of the Congressional delegation. In Maine the official returns exhibit a Democratic gain of about eight thousand, which is amply sufficient to show "the drift" of political sentiment in that quarter of the Union. There can be no other interpretation of these results other than that the people are dissatisfied; and that they are willing to place the Government in the possession of the Democracy. But the Democratic party, just now, is not in harmony on the only vital issue that will come up in the next Presidential struggle. Heretofore, as far back as our memory runs, the Democrats have been the advocates of "hard money," of honest dollars; but today, in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and in some of the Western States, they support our present pernicious paper currency, and even demand an inflation—which, in our judgment, is suicidal to all our industries, and detrimental to good government. No people ever have, or ever will, prosper with an irredeemable paper money system; and any party that makes its issue a part of its policy, will meet with disfavor and defeat sooner or later. In Pennsylvania, at the recent Democratic Convention, there was a hard-fought battle on the currency question; and the closeness of the contest shows that the party leaders are about equally divided, with perhaps a slight advantage for the inflationists. Their platform (which, like all other political platforms, is a mere declaration of words) denounces a contraction of the currency with a view to a forced resumption of specie payments; and demands that the volume of paper money be kept "equal to the wants of trade." Well, this is all well enough, so long as the country retains this sort of money. The Ohio Democracy have "run mad" on paper money; and are now fighting for supremacy on that issue mainly. Should they be successful, their victory would strengthen the inflationists in other States to the West of them; but in the East, it would have no such influence. All parties there are committed to a contraction of the volume of currency, and also for an early resumption of specie payments. And in this respect the Eastern States are far in advance of the West, and recognize the stern fact that we have too much depreciated and irredeemable paper money; and besides that, we can never revive our great industries until we reform both our present currency and our banking system. As we have frequently said in these columns, there should be no union between finance and politics; but in the coming Presidential struggle we see that there can be no separation, for both parties are so mixed and identified with paper money and national banking that no other leading issue can be substituted. Hence, we must "fight it out on this line," and the reader is well aware that our advice and influence will be for contraction in our currency, reform in our banking system, with a demand for honest dollars and equal taxation for all classes—for rich and poor, for black and white.

GRANT MAKES A SPEECH.

The announcement that President Grant has made a speech will no doubt astonish many. No wonder that he disappointed his auditors at Des Moines, and that his speech was greeted with applause again and again. The President in course of duty, happened to be in Des Moines, the Capital of Iowa, on Wednesday last, and, on being called, said he had concluded to disappoint those who called him first at the expectation of getting a short speech, and had jotted down some things he wished to say. He then expressed his gratification in recalling the days when they had suffered together to preserve Government that believe worth fighting, and even dying, for. "We will not," said he, "deny to any of those who fought against us any privilege under the Government which we claim for ourselves. On the contrary, we will meet all such who come forward in good faith, and help build up the waste places and to perpetuate our institution, against all enemies, as brothers in full interest with us in a common heritage. But we are not prepared to apologize for the past. To guard against a recurrence of those days we must begin by guarding against every enemy preventing the prosperity of free Republican institutions. I do not bring into this assemblage politics; certainly not partisan politics; but it is a fair subject for soldiers' deliberation to consider what may be necessary to secure the prize for which they battled. The President urged the cultivation of intelligence among the people in regard to political matters, and said if we are to have another contest in the near future of our natural existence, I predict the dividing line will not be Mason & Dixon's, but between patriotism and intelligence on the one side, and superstition, ambition and ignorance on the other. In this Centennial year, the work of strengthening the foundation of the structure begun by our forefathers 100 years ago, at Lexington, should be begun. Let all labor for more security of free speech and press, free morals, unfettered religious sentiments, and equal rights and privileges of all men, irrespective of nationality, color or religion; encourage free schools, and resolve that $1 appropriated to them shall not be applied to support any sectarian school, and resolve that neither State nor nation shall support institutions save those where every child in the land may get a common school education, unmixed with atheist, pagan, or sectarian teachings. Leave the matter of religion to the family, and keep Church and State forever separate. With these safeguards I believe the battles which created the array of Tennessee will not have been fought in vain." These remarks do honor to him who gave them utterance, and if Grant should be a candidate for a third term, he is and has been making a canvass for the past year or two that will go a long way toward electing him, and in the present condition of political affairs it is impossible to conjecture what the future may not bring forth.

THE BANK—OPEN TO-DAY.

The Bank of California will assume its wonted aspect this forenoon, the golden twenties will glisten on the trays, and all checks will be paid as soon as presented. The agencies of the Bank in Virginia and Gold Hill will resume simultaneously with the parent Bank. It is well known that the JOURNAL has never been friendly to the political schemes of Wm. Sharon or the old Bank of California—it has always been the friend and advocate of what it believed was best for the people, no matter whether corporations, or selfish men stood in the way. But the JOURNAL would be false to every sense of true honor did it not accord Wm. Sharon the full meed of praise he is entitled to from the people at large, who are greatly the gainers from this resumption of business of the Bank. For this, the people of small means who had their life's earnings locked up in its vaults, are more indebted to Sharon, than any other twenty men. And he deserves to be held in grateful remembrance by them.

Some of the bulls predict a $15 dividend from Consolidated Virginia, & the inauguration of regular dividends of $2 per share on California as a result of the recent purchase of the organ and Brunswick mills.

It is estimated that the valuation of taxable property in Eureka county will foot up $2,300,000.

NEVADA'S SCANDAL.

The Carson Appeal is authority for the statement that the majority of the Board of State Prison Commissioners, namely, Attorney General Kittrell and Secretary of State Minor, only await the personal presence and co-operation of the Chairman of the Board, Governor Bradley, to begin and carry on to a satisfying conclusion, a full exhausting investigation of all the charges brought against the said Warden. The Appeal further states that Attorney General Kittrell addressed a letter, more than ten days since, to Governor Bradley, urging him to come to the Capital and join him in making the proposed investigation.

Such being the facts it is now in order for Governor Bradley to respond to this appeal without further delay. As Governor of the State he made charges against Warden Hyman which if true ought to make that gentleman spend the remaining days of his natural existence in the most loathsome dungeon in the institution over which he now has the honor to preside. But the Governor must immediately take steps to substantiate the charges made over his signature, or else the people will believe that he is actuated by unworthy motives, jealous of the growing power of a subordinate, and that the State's interests are subservient to his personal prejudice.

As Governor Bradley is now at Elko, it will not take him over a day or two, should he feel so disposed, to reach the Capital of the State, and at once enter upon the investigation. He has already had ample time to communicate with his witnesses and collect such evidence as has bearing on the case.

BELMONT.

Ralston's Country Seat to be Added to the Palace Hotel Attractions.

Among the notable pieces of property belonging to the estate of the late Wm. C. Ralston, is the Belmont Villa, which has a world-wide reputation. This was included in the deed made by Mr. Ralston to Senator Sharon. Valuable as it was, yet it might have been considered a burden to carry, by any one who did not know how to use it. Its cost has been about one million and a quarter dollars. As a country residence it is probably the finest in the United States. Many times it has been the scene of the most magnificent entertainments. Parties of one hundred and more have sat down to eat in its spacious dining saloon.

We now learn that it is Senator Sharon's intention to make use of this magnificent property as an appendage of the Palace Hotel. It will be the country resort for the patrons of that grand caravansary. A plan has already been developed for its arrangement.

Preference will be given to regular boarders at the Palace Hotel. By paying one dollar a day extra they can have the pleasure of staying at Belmont whenever and as long as they please. This will afford families and strangers a most delightful opportunity to taste the pleasures of California country life. Others can have the privilege of boarding at Belmont without keeping rooms at the Palace Hotel, but preference will be given the regular boarders.

Belmont is one hour's ride by rail distant from this city, and only a quarter of a mile from the railroad. In its vicinity are the most delightful drives and most attractive country residences. The stables are well stocked, and will be kept up for the benefit of guests. We cannot think of anything more attractive than could be added to the already great attractions of the Palace Hotel.—S. F. Alta of Thursday.

NEVADA STATE ITEMS.

On Monday and Tuesday next the Pacific Mill and Mining Company will pay off the employees of all the following mills: Consolidated Virginia, California, Sacramento, Mariposa, Hoosier State, Bacon, Trench, Kelsey, Devil's Gate, Occidental, and Morgan. Pay-day for the miners is not yet settled upon.

The Imperial mine at Gold Hill has begun to turn out bullion. The Douglas mill began crushing ore on the 10th instant, and $8,000 of bullion had been turned out several days ago. The monthly clean-up will probably show a respectable row of figures.

The Brunswick mill, on the Carson river, has been purchased by the Consolidated Virginia Mining Company, and in a few days will be started up on ore from the Consolidated Virginia mine. This will add about $500,000 per month to the crushing capacity of the company.

NEVADA MINING NEWS.

(From the Gold Hill News of Thursday.)

The machinery of the new mill is nearly all on the ground and both the reduction and amalgamating mills are being pushed to completion with all the energy possible. The winze below the 1560-foot level is down 69 feet, the bottom still in rich ore. Timbering the cross-cuts and north drift on the 1560-foot level is making excellent headway. The north drift on the 1400-foot level has passed through the poor streak recently and the face is again in fine ore. It is now in 275 feet from cross-cut No. 3, the place of starting. An up-raise has been made from this drift which is now made up in low grade ore.

Crown Point.

Work progressing well at all the points as usual. No new discoveries to report of the prospecting operations on the 1600 and 1700-foot levels. The machinery is all working well, and the present prospects are quite favorable for good developments.

Consolidated Virginia.

Daily yield, 650 tons of ore. The ore breasts are looking splendidly throughout the entire mine, the ventilation first-class, and everything working to as near perfection as it is possible for it to do in such extensive operations. The bullion yield for the present month will reach between $1,700,000 and $1,800,000, which needs no comment, as the amount speaks for itself. The up-raise in the ore body over cross-cut No. 2 on the 1400-foot level has been connected with the 1300-foot level, and proves the ore body in the southeast portion of the mine to be much better than was expected. The new pump at the C. & C. shaft was started up last Monday and works splendidly. Sinking the shaft has been resumed. The new building is covered in and will soon be completed.

The improvements and repairs are making rapid progress, and the prospects are that everything will be in readiness to start the entire mine into full operation by about the 2d day of October. No changes, whatever, of value to report.

Justice.

Drifting and cross-cutting in the old south mine, or Waller's Defeat section, goes energetically ahead, and a splendid body of ore is being developed at the 600-foot level, considerable of which is high grade. At the 900-foot level the south drift is now running in quartz and vein matter of highly promising character.

Julia.

The shaft is down 1500 feet, the bottom in good working ground, and the sinking making splendid progress. The southwest prospecting drift on the 1400-foot level is rapidly advancing, with strong evidences of soon reaching the vicinity of the main ore vein. The prospects in this drift are very favorable. The main south drift on the 1000-foot level, is steadily advancing, the face in very interesting ledge matter, and with still better prospects ahead.

Dyke.

Daily yield, 300 tons of ore. This increase of ore production has been made to furnish a supply of ore for two additional mills, the Pacific and Kelsey, which start up on the Ophir ore the 1st of October. These two mills have a crushing capacity of 150 tons per day, and will add greatly to the bullion production of the mine. The Ophir is steadily verging on toward a return to her old dividend-paying rank, and may yet astonish some of the bears and doubters. Work is progressing well and favorably at all points in the mine.

Overman.

The prospecting drifts on the 900-foot level are steadily advancing without change of interest to report. The south drift from the bottom of the winze on the 1100-foot level is steadily pushed ahead without change of value to record. More of a delay has been experienced in getting the new spur wheel from the foundry than was at first expected, owing to a lack of a sufficient quantity of metal from which to manufacture it. The wheel is now on the way from San Francisco, and everything will soon be again in good running order. The water is rising but very little in the shaft, showing conclusively that the strong head recently encountered has been exhausted, so that no great trouble from that need again be expected.

Gold Hill is about to become the field of an attempt at co-operation, the results of which will be looked for with interest. The Co-operative Company of Gold Hill have incorporated to enable its members to purchase merchandise and other necessities and conveniences of life on the most favorable terms. It is proposed to open about the middle of October a grocery, provision and mining supply store. The capital stock of the company is $50,000 divided into 1,000 shares of $50 each.

Rev. Geo. B. Allen, of Carson City, delivered a free lecture at Gold Hill, last evening. The subject of the lecture was, "Shall the State or the Church control the educational institutions of the United States? Shall the Bible be read in the public schools of our country?"

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS AT THE CENTENNIAL.

It appears that the public schools of the country are to have a hand in the great Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia next year. The following circular, which has just been sent out by State Superintendent S. P. Kelly, will interest the rising generation of this section:

To the Teachers of the Public Schools in the State of Nevada: The Commissioner of Education has allotted a space for the State of Nevada at the Centennial Exhibition, to be held in Philadelphia in 1876. We will be in competition with every State in the Union. It is our interest to make a good showing. I desire to see every school in the State well represented, by at least one specimen of penmanship, map or other drawing, or any evidence of proficiency on the part of the scholar. Each ungraded school and each department of a graded school will be limited to three specimens (more can be presented); the Board of Education to decide upon the specimens to be forwarded. I ask the earnest and prompt co-operation of every teacher in the State. Send in the best efforts of your scholars. Specimens must be forwarded to this office before December 31, 1875, to insure a place in the exhibition.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL P. KELLY,
State Superintendent.

The mines and mills under control of the Bank of California have received notice that hereafter all employees will be paid off between the 10th and 11th of each month, instead of the 1st and 6th as heretofore.
